DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES

The International Order of Freemasonry for Men and Women, Le Droit Humain, is heir to the ancient Masonic traditions whose wise principles, moral force and discipline it has maintained. The principles and methods of work adopted by the Order are based on the Constitution drawn up by the International Masonic Congress held at Lausanne in September 1875 with changes allowing the admission of women.

Le Droit Humain is founded on the principles of freedom of conscience, solidarity and justice and based on the fundamental equality of all human beings. It maintains the ancient landmarks of Freemasonry and withholds recognition from all irregular and clandestine meetings or Lodges not holding proper Charter.

The Order recognizes that united strength is necessary for humanity to progress and that efforts made by one sex alone are inadequate for the solution of economic, social or ethical problems.

Membership is open to men and women without distinction of race, ethnicity, philosophic, or religious beliefs. The Order imposes no restrictions on the free search for truth and, to secure that freedom, expects tolerance from all its members. The American Federation allows its Lodges freedom to work either to the Glory of the Great Architect of the Universe and/or to the Perfection of Humanity, according to authorized rituals.

The laws and constitution of the country, the decisions of the Supreme Council of the International Order of Freemasonry for Men and Women and the never-ending effort toward the betterment of Humanity bind its members.
